SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COTTON.

Liberal advances made on Consigments to us for sale, or Shipment to our friends in Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York or Liverpool.

Wishing to aid our Planter friends in their efforts to secure for themselves the full benefit of their Cotton Crops, we have determined to make advances on Cotton consigned to us on the following easy terms:

On Cotton, for sale at discretion, advance seventy-five (75) per cent. of its market value, charging interest on the advance until the Cotton is sold at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum.

On Cotton, to be held Thirty Days, advance fifty (50) per cent. of market value, charging the regular commision for advancing, 2½ per cent., and interest on the advance at the rate of seven (7) per cent. per annum.

On Cotton, to be held Sixty Days, fifty (50) per cent of its market value, charging commission for advancing, 2½ per cent., and interest on the advance at the rate of one (1) per cent per month.

In all cases the advance will be based upon the market value of the Cotton on the day it reaches us. MERCER & ANDERSON.

GEORGE T. FRY,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Begs leave to inform the good people of Atlanta, and also those of Fulton, DeKalb, and adjoining counties, that he has located his office in Ball's Building, East side of Whitehall street, in the said city of Atlanta, where he may be found and consulted upon business, every day (Sundays excepted) from 7 o'clock, A. M., to 6 o'clock, P. M He will give diligent, careful, and prompt attention to all business confided to his care.

He will make a specialty of the following grades of business, to-wit: The collection of debts, settlement of all money demands, and of all demands growing out of contracts between man and man, all matters appertaining to, or growing out of, the Homestead Law.

Parties desiring to avail themselves of the benefits intended to be conferred by the Homestead Law, are respectfully invited to come to my office for any information they may desire concerning the said law. Also, will attend specially to all matters in Bankruptcy; and he begs leave to say to the unfortunate debtor, that the time wherein you will be allowed the full benefit of the Bankrupt Law, will expire on the first day of January, 1869; after that time you must pay fifty per cent. of your indebtedness, or else you cannot have the benefit of the law, except by the consent of a majority, in number and value, of your creditors, which consent you will not be likely to obtain.—If you are in debt $300, or upwards, and feel that you cannot pay out, without subjecting yourself and family to great hardships and inconvenience, come to my office, and I will assist you to be relieved from all your distresses and embarrassments, by filing a petition for you for that purpose.

Be sure to make application before the 31st day of December, or else you will be too late! too late!

The citizens are specially invited to come to my office to consult me on any business they may desire to have attended to. They will always find me in my office, in a good humor, always glad to see you, and ready to give you a hearty, old-fashioned welcome, and will always be ready to attend to your business for you.

Office over Alexander's Hardware and Braufield's Drug Store, stairway running up between the two, on the same floor of the Southern and St. Louis Life Insurance offices.

Respectfully, GEO. T. FRY.
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10, 1868.

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, DECEMBER 8.

SOCIAL CLUB ANNUAL HOP.—The Social Club of Atlanta will give an annual hop at the Representative Hall to-night.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to meet in our office this morning, Col. R. J. Moses, Democratic Elector for the 3rd District, who is in our city as a member of the Electoral College, instead of attending the Supreme Court, as incorrectly stated by us this morning.

ESCAPED UNHURT.—Our friend and fellow-citizen, Capt. John M. Harwell, County and State Tax Collector for this county, was a passenger on the America at the time of the collision between that boat and the United States, about twenty miles above Louisville on the Ohio river.

We are gratified, however, to learn from a dispatch from Capt. Harwell to Messrs. J. J. Thrasher and Miles G. Dobbins, of this city, dated Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 6, 1868, that he escaped the disasters incident to the loss of the two boats, farther than the loss of baggage, money and everything he had. The Captain says that those who escaped, were kindly treated by everybody.

To Young Men out of Employment

We agree with the Savannah Republican that there is no subject that more intimately concerns the welfare of society, and especially Southern society at the present time, than the duty of regular, constant employment in some department of labor. We might write an essay from the living texts all around us, but we find the whole subject so ably and fully treated in the money article of a late Journal of Commerce, that we adopt it as far preferable and more to the point than anything we might say. The writer presents the case in this wise, and we hope every idle man and boy in the South will have an opportunity of reading something that exactly fits his case:

"We have received, in a very good handwriting but without any recognized signature, the following letter, which needs no other introduction:

To the Editor of the Journal of Commerce: Dear Sir: I am a young man who has no work, nor friends, nor money. What shall I do in this extremity? Please answer immediately.

ONE OF YOUR READERS.

"Assuming that our anonymous correspondent has stated his case fairly, we will make a brief reply. He has his youth, health and ability. He lacks work, friends and money. Passing by the question as to good character, and any comment suggested by the confessed want of friends, which even the honest poor should have, we say to the young man—you are not in extremity, if by this term you mean "utmost distress."

"If you had a sick wife, or decrepid parents, or a family of hungry children at your desolate and unprovided home, you might begin to talk of 'extremity,' though even then with youth, health and intelligence, you ought to be equal to this demand upon your energy. But with no helpless dependents, and with but a single mouth to feed, and a pair of sturdy arms, under a clear head, to direct to that particular end, you are as well provided for as a man need be, and have all the world where to choose. But you want an answer, do you? Well, then, place before you the objects you desire—work, friends, money, and then, stand not on the order of it—but get them. Work will not come to you, and you must seek it; not with that style of reluctant endeavor with which a man examines a seat in the dark, 'feeling for something he doesn't want to find,' but with the whole-hearted earnestness of one bent on doing the work which offers. Do not wait for something to suit you. Take hold of the first honest thing that comes to hand. Everything good in the material univere is bound in links together. Whoever takes hold firmly, any where, has the whole world in his grasp, and it depends only on granted time and opportunity how much of it he shall secure. There are especially favorable handles given to some; but while you are waiting for these to come round to you, or are busy searching for them, you will lose more than you could have gained by them, while by laying hold at first you will have obtained at the later moment a greater actual advantage.

"Friends will come fast enough the moment you earn them. Be of some use to the world, and leave the reward to follow without anxiety. But you cannot find work, you think? You have walked the streets for days, perhaps, expecting some man to rush up to you and proffer you a first class place with high pay and but little to do; or (if not lazy) much to do, but of the description best suited to your case, and with great promise of reward and advancement. You are now sitting down in despair! Get on to your feet again. We know a man who now rides in his carriage who had youth and no money and nothing to do, being thrown out of employment by the crash of 1837. He had friends, poor like himself, and did not choose to live upon them. He tied some clothes in a bundle, put a stick through the bundle, and set his face toward the open country. He begged of no man for even a drink of water. He cut wood for his first supper, and milked the cows in addition for his lodging and breakfast. It will not cost you one red cent to take yourself over the free bridge to where you can find a similar opportunity. Thenceforth (we do not say 'root hog or die') eat the bread of independence.

"The man who is willing and able to work has the wand that conjures all wealth into the purse. It is the world's great need. Able and willing to work! Why, young man, you have a treasure in that possession. If you only want to be supported; if you are craving only something to eat; if you only desire, like most people out of employment, to be something instead of to do someting, why your case is pitiable, and the Lord give you a better mind. But if you have the heart to work, you are the very man everybody is looking for. You may not be recognized as belonging to that class at once, since there are many hypocrites and pretenders, but the moment you are found out—and you will be if you take hold of the first thing that you can do usefully—your claim will be granted, and you will be placed in the sure line of promotion. Do not sit still a moment. Catch hold of the first useful labor where you see a place to catch, if you get nothing for it. You will not by hungry long with that manifested disposition."

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES IN THE SOUTH.

A New Plan Proposed.

The following extracts are taken from an address to the farmers and planters of eastern North Carolina, read before the Agricultural Convention held at Wilmington, North Carolina, November 27, 1868, by Robert K. Bryan, Esq., which was received by the Convention and ordered to be spread upon the minutes:

The time has come when agriculture is entitled to take rank with the sciences. The farmer who cleaves to antiquated notions, regardless of that progressive spirit which has in our day taken hold of all the pursuits of life, will find himself in the rear of his competitors in the race for wealth. He may attempt to throw the blame for his scant harvests on that great scapegoat of poor farmers—the seasons. If, however, he be fortunate enough to have as a neighbor one who keeps pace with the progress of improvement, he will find, by a comparison of crops, that the latter has discovered the secret which renders him, to a great extent, independent of the vicissitudes of the seasons. And if he be not hopelessly joined to the dead idols of the past, he will ultimately be drawn, by the force of example, into the adoption of improved methods of tillage. These methods are based upon principles discovered by patient and profound searchers after truth, and are confirmed by the judgment and experience of practical men. Successive contributions have enriched the science of agriculture, and added clearness and certainty to its principles, and it now stands before the world a symmetrical whole worthy of the study of all who are interested in the cultivation of the soil.

* * * * * * * *

There are scattered throughout our State numbers of young men who are anxious to be educated, but from lack of means cannot be. In determining upon the plan of an agricultural school, special consideration for the wants of this large class should be had. If a portion of the student's time, say five hours in each day, should be set apart for farm work, it would be found that sufficient time would be left for the study of all necessary branches of learning. The exercise of the body would promote physical and mental health, enable the student to concentrate his attention on his studies, and thus to accomplish more in a given time than he could under a system of training where physical exercise is neglected. Thus the time spent in outdoor work would not be lost if we regard only the intellectual progress of the student. Meantime, by this system, the constitution will become invigorated, and much in a pecuniary point of view saved. The labor of a student diligently performed under intelligent supervision would constitute a fair set off against all charges for board. In this way the principal expenses would be gotten rid of by the student, and only those for tuition, books, clothing, &c., would remain. Thus the outlay for a sound agricultural education could be brought within the means of a numerous class of young men who are now wholly unable to meet the expenses of an ordinary boarding school. Thus a large number of intelligent working young farmers could be annually added to the producing population of our State. The direct result of their labors in increasing our material wealth would be considerable, whilst their influence in elevating and improving the system of farming would be incalculable. The elevation and improvement of our agriculture implies increased production, increased wealth, increased refinement, and, in a word, increased happiness.

The labor of a considerable body of students, giving five hours in each day to farm work, would suffice for the cultivation of a large farm, which should be attached to such an institution as we are now describing, and the products of such a farm skilfully cultivated would go towards the support of the proposed college. To this would be added the tuition fees, both together constituting an amount of resources which would go far towards making the institution self-supporting.

The direct benefits likely to arise from such an institution judiciously located and properly conducted, would not be confined to the students trained there. Farmers would visit it for the purpose of observing the methods of culture pursued there, and the operation of machines and implements of an improved kind. Experiments might here be conducted in an exact and satisfactory manner, and the results published for the benefit of all concerned. From such institutions an influence would radiate, which would be felt far and wide in building up for our country a system of practical agriculture based on science, whose peaceful glory would not pale in comparison with the most heroic achievements of the past.

If the views herein presented with regard to the proper plan for an Agricultural College be correct, it will be apparent that no combination of such a plan with the old system of collegiate education is practicable. The latter is well adapted to the wants of the great mass of our intelligent agricultural population. We do not undervalue the old system as a means of training youth for the learned professions, and for that purpose we disire to see institutions, conducted on that plan, flourishing in our midst. But it is much more important that a farmer should know how to cure a sick horse, or to prevent the escape of ammonia from his manure heap, than how to render Sophocles into English or explain the mysteries of the parabola. The condition of the great mass of our people demands a system of education which will bear tangible fruit. It demands that their children shall be instructed in the ways and means by which bodily comfort may be secured. This is the most pressing want. When wealth flows into our empty coffers and leisure is afforded us, we can then give attention to the claims of polite literature, and that higher education which is altogether admirable, but which is at present and likely to continue for some time, a luxury beyond the reach of ninety-nine hundredths of our population.

THE BRUNSWICK BANNER OFFICE FOR SALE.—We offer the press, type, fixtures, &c., of the Brunswick Banner office for sale, for the cash, from now until the 15th day of December next. If not sold by that time we shall make arrangements to enlarge and otherwise improve by the first of January. With the present prospects of Brunswick a bright future is considered certain to an enterprise of this kind, and the only reason we have for offering the office for sale is, that we have too much of other business demanding our time to devote that attention to the publication of a paper which is strictly necessary. Address B. C. Franklin, proprietor, Brunswick, Georgia.—Brunswick Banner.

Ohio has over 141,000 acres in orchards, which in 1867, yielded 9,404,000 bushels of apples, 1,402,000 bushels of peaches, and 125,700 bushels of pears, the whole valued at over $7,000,000.

The English Elections.

From the Charleston News.]

Fifty years ago the Roman Catholic walking in the streets of London on a Sabbath morning, towards the church where he might worship God after his own fashion, was watched and pointed at as a creature whose very existence was a proof of the clemency and magnanimity of Protestant England. Only ten or fifteen years ago the cry of "No Popery" shook the kingdom from one end to the other, and roused a furious though temporary excitement, under the influence of which the many-headed mob would have been willing to see the fires of persecution lighted again in Smithfield. But the progress of liberal ideas has been so rapid that at the prseent day the old Shibboleth is no password to party success, and politicians play with edge-tools when they endeavor to win their battles by provoking a war of religions.

The vast stride in liberality of sentiment which England has made during the last few years is shown by the comparative quiet with which the late Parliamentary elections have been conducted. There was in the contest a religious element and a religious watchword. The fanatics cried out that the movement for the disestablishment of the Irish Church was a plot to Romanize Great Britain; the more jog-trot patriots argued that the disendowment of the Church in Ireland would be made a precedent for the separation of Church and State in England. Every effort was made to arouse the prejudices and excite the passions of the populace, and the result demonstrates that no Lord George Gordon can now raise a mob in London to burn down the house of a Chief Justice, to break open the jails and let loose the worst criminals upon society, to gut the Catholic chapels and give the metropolis to plunder and flames.

The cause of this seems plain enough. What Protestant zeal there may be in England is neutralized partly by masses of Irish Catholics in the large towns, who are ready at all times to fight for their religion, and partly by the great number of positivists or secularists who, if they have no creed of their own, are in favor of fair play for all denominations. Add the division afforded by Ritualism, and the feeling that it is absurd to curse Catholics while Ritualism is tolerated, and there are reasons enough why the attempt to stir up a war of sects has been a woeful failure. This is a sesult which must be gratifying to all who have at heart the intellectual and moral advancement of our Trans-Atlanti step-mother; for it is certain that there can be no true liberty in any country while any set of men are persecuted and condemned for conscience or opinion's sake. England has it in her power to move rapidly forward without falling into the depths from out of which we cry; and Englishmen cannot better manifest their earnestness and sincerity as Reformers than by maintaining the right of every man to think and act as he pleases, so long as his thoughts and actions are not injurious to the well-being and safety of society.

VIEWS OF A UNITED STATES SENATOR. We give to-day the result of a conversation held between a Herald correspondent and Senator Morton, of Indiana. Senator Morton represents, probably as well as any other member of the Senate, the views of the substantial Republicans of the West upon national questions. In regard to financial matters he may, perhaps, not be so essentially the oracle of the West as his colleague from the same section, Senator Sherman, of Ohio, who, as chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, is supposed to be better posted on those subjects. But Senator Morton utters the sentiments of a practical man, while Senator Sherman is apt to indulge in theories. The Indiana Senator's ideas about the resumption of specie payments at a given period are, however, open to those objections which we have all along entertained and uttered in that respect. Specie payments will be resumed when the natural increase in the trade, credit and prosperity of the nation warrants resumption, and any attempt to force specie payments before that period will end in failure and disaster. The suggestion that resumption shall take place by law in the year 1874 savors of the tact and trick of the old politician, for in that year the people will be considering the matter of a new Presidential term, and the financial issue, if not settled before, will then be a vital one, which circumstances then existing will have a momentous influence upon. We wish Senator Morton had been more particular and explicit in expressing his views in regard to the Alabama claims. As a member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations he ought to be well informed on that interesting point. But, as a whole, the exposition of his views, as given by our correspondent, are valuable to the community as foreshadowing the policy of the majority in the approaching and final session of the Fortieth Congress.—N. Y. Herald.

STAR AGRICULTURAL WORKS.
The Albany Cotton Gin Manuf'g Co.
Manufacturers of the Celebrated "Star" Cotton Gins and Condensers, "Star" Threshing Machines, "Star" Lever and Endless Chain Horse Powers, and other Agricultural Machinery.

Our "STAR" Cotton Gin and Condenser have taken first premiums in every instance where entered at Southern Fairs, competing with the best Gins of the country made by other parties.

At the two Great Fairs of the Mechanics' and Agricultural Association, held at New Orleans successively in November, 1866, and January, 1868, the "Star" Gin and Condenser took all at both Fairs all the premiums offered on Gins and Condensers, against a competition embracing all other Gins of any prominence in the country. Also at the last two State Fairs held at St. Louis, Mo, our Gin and Condenser took the First Premium against a powerful competition.

The Condenser attachment being new to most planters, we wish to say that it entirely obviates the necessity of a "lint room," as with it a Gin may be used in the open air and the sheet or bag as it is discharged from the Condenser is ready for the press. It effectually cleans the cotton of sand and dirt, and makes the work of ginning free from the danger of inhaling the fine particles of lint which otherwise fill the air.

N. B. We also make the most approved HORSE POWERS (both Lever and Railway) to drive our "Star" Gins, and also manufacture the celebrated "Star" Threshing Machines. We furnish Gins, with or without Condensers. For sale by our AGENTS and DEALERS generally. Our Complete Illustrated Descriptive Circular is sent, free of charge, on application by mail. Address The ALBANY COTTON GIN MANUFACTURING CO., Albany, N. Y., P. O. Drawer 162.

LORILLARD'S
"Yacht Club"
SMOKING TOBACCO.

The best judges everywhere declare it to be the best for many reasons:
It is made of the finest stock grown.
It has a mild and agreeable aroma.
It is anti-nervous in its effects—
The Nicotine having been extracted—
And is perfectly free from drugs.
It leaves no acrid, disagreeable after-taste,
Does not burn or sting the tongue,
And leaves no offensive odor in the room.
Being very light, one pound will last as long
As two to three pounds of ordinary tobacco.

European Tendency to Liberalism.

The tendency of the age is to a more comprehensive liberalism in politics and religion. The closing half of the 19th century will be a bright period in the history of mankind. It will be distinguished for a more general recognition of their rights than many preceding ones. In Europe power is fast passing from the rulers to the people. Where they still cling to oppressive forms of government, the drift of public sentiment is to milder administration. England, the most enlightened of European nations, takes lead in a revolution co-extensive with the continent. The success of the Liberals in the late elections and the defeat of the Disraeli ministry insures other and more important reforms The Irish Church question, though entering hotly into the contest, has been decided in favor of its disestablishment. Other concessions of power to the people, hitherto unjustly withheld, are guaranteed by the result. The "divine right" of the people instead of kings "to rule," has been in a great measure confirmed. Error has been forced to yield to the influence of truth. In the south of Europe Spain, in response to right, in condemnation of wrong, has shaken off the bondage. Though unprepared to reap the fruits of a sudden revolution, her people are ripe for the blessings of a larger liberty. Political and religious intolerance, if indeed at all, must in future assume a milder form. Through the several agencies actively at work among the nations of Europe—the general diffusion of intelligence among all classes; the linking of distinct peoples together by the bonds of a common commercial and reciprocal unity. the day is near when the more liberal principles pervading the English mind will embrace all classes in England without distinction. So great are the intellectual forces at work in this reformation, and so rapid the spread of ideas from one country to another, that their inclination in religion and government is to become general. Even at this time, by its extraneous force, the Spanish revolution serves to relax the power of Napoleon in France. But for the hazard of the undertaking, the Emperor would have shown himself an effective agency in checking the tendency of Spain to liberalism. His own critical condition, however, forbade any interference abroad. Every attempt to prop the Bourbon throne in Spain would have weakened it in France. Similar causes produce corresponding results among other nations of Europe.

England, with an enlarged statesmanship and an enlightened philanthropy in recognizing the progressive spirit of the age, places herself in the front rank of the advance move. Conceding to the people rights no longer to be denied them, she takes the lead in a revolution which is destined, more or less, to change the relation of the people to the governing power in every nation of Europe. The political philosophy of these changes in the sentiment of civilized nations may be traced to that brighter era which has dawned upon the world, marked by a more general diffusion of knowledge, the intercommunicative links of railroads, telegraphs, and the various mediums of intelligence which eminently characterize the 19th century.

Before these powerful co-aids to religious and political freedom the old systems of despotism are forced to give way as darkness to the light of the nearly risen sun. They date the emancipation of man from the errors binding his conscience in chains, and the tyranny which denied him the right to act, speak and think for himself.

The Southern Amaranth and the Atlanta Seminary.

A few days before I left New York, Miss Sallie A. Brock, who wrote "Richmond During the War," and is now one of the lady "quill drivers" of New York, said to me: "Mrs. Battey, if you will act as agent for my "Southern Amaranth," I will give all the liberal per cent. my publishers allow on the sale of it, for the Memorial Associations, to the Atlanta and other Seminaries; all the subscriptions you obtain, of course, going to your institution. I consider the object in which you are interested—the education of Southern children—of far more importance than erecting monuments to the memories of their fallen fathers."

"Thank you, Miss Brock," was my warm reply; "I am sure the education of their children is the noblest monument that could be erected to those whose names are engraven upon our hearts 'in characters more enduring than marble.'"

It was a generous donation from Miss Brock, for her book is a beautiful volume of Southern Poems, selected with greater care than has been given to any previous collection. The opening poem is most appropriately the "Sentinel Songs" of our beloved Father Ryan, and the closing one his "Land of Memories." Our own Barrick, A. R. Watson, Dr. John M. Johnson, Paul Hayne, Fannie Downing, and others of note, are all well represented in this truly beautiful collection of lyrics. Miss Brock, herself, is represented in her "Story of Powhattan"—a poem—running through sixteen pages of the volume. It is a larger book than either Gilmore Simms' or Miss Mason's collection, containing about six hundred pages. The typography is clear and beautiful, and the style of binding such as to render it a beautiful and appropriate gift for the Christmas season.

There are three different styles of binding. The cheapest coming at $3, and the others at $4 and $6.

Miss Brock gives to the Atlanta Seminary one-half the proceeds of the sales of the $3 volumes, and one-third and one-fourth per cent, upon the $4 and $6 books.

I will canvass the city of Atlanta in a few days, for the Seminary, and trust the good citizens will give me such substantial aid for the institution as will enable me to show the interest which is felt in the subject, upon my return to New York, where I have been successfully representing my school, and whither I propose returning for the purpose of still further prosecuting its interests. I hope I will meet with at least as much encouragement as I received in my recent tour.

My object is to establish such a Seminary in the city of Atlanta, for the education of her daughters, as will meet the exigencies of the times; making the school which my teachers, Mrs. Gen. Walker, Mrs. Witcher and Miss Prather have so faithfully served, during my absence of the last four months, the nucleus of that institution.

MRS. GEORGE BATTEY.

CATHOLIC CHURCH IN ROME.—We learn from the Rome (Ga.) Courier, that steps are being taken to build a Catholic church in that beautiful and enterprising city.

My Mother.

BY J. R. BARRICK.

My Mother, from the ills of life,
Worn weary with its toil and strife;
A wanderer on the ocean driven
By every tempest wind of heaven,—
An alien cast about the earth,
Far from the land that gave him birth,
Back, like a waif from off the sea,
In thought returns thy son to thee.

My Mother, years, long years, have fled,
Marked with the tomb-stones of the dead,—
Years red with blood and black with crime,
To darkly veil the page of Time;
And hopes, high hopes—the true, the just,
Like ruined altars turned to dust,
Since last I sat thy presence near,
A Mother's loving voice to hear.

My Mother, thou in age hast grown
By years heard in thy faltering tone;
Thine eye is far less clear and bright,
Thy hair tinged with a streak of white;
And on thy brow so smooth and fair,
I trace the deepening lines of care;
And in thy step a feebler gait,
Seems on each motion now to wait.

My Mother, nearing to the strand
That borders on the Sunset Land,
A crown of glory waits thee now
In angel hands to bind thy brow;
When thou hast reached the golden coast,
Gained only by the sacred host,
Pray that thy wandering son may be,
When life is done, in Heaven with thee.

OUR VISITORS.—We referred yesterday morning to a party of gentlemen who are visiting our State and have in view the investigation of our resources and advantages, for the purpose of inducing immigration to this part of the South. This is the beginning, we trust, of a movement which, if properly conducted and met in the right spirit, must result in almost incalculable good to our people. The advantages of Georgia, at this time, are, we might say, beyond estimation. There are thousands of her acres which, before the war, readily commanded fifteen, twenty and thirty dollars each, and which are intrinsically worth as much, or more, to-day. that can be purchased for three, four or five dollars per acre. Her immense water power, fine mineral advantages, beautiful and attractive soil and climate, all from the mountains to the seaboard, stand, as it were, with outstretched arms inviting immigration and capital, and assuring the most substantial benefits in every instance. We do not believe there is any State in the South which can offer greater inducements, or promise more solid and lasting advantages to the capitalist or laborer than Georgia. We have a government in every respect far better than that of our sister States: our laws are mild, our people liberal and generous in their views, willing to afford any and all opportunities to good men who desire to come among us; and, in truth, there are innumerable reasons why a proper immigration to Georgia will result in universal benefits to those who are willing to develop our resources. And, as we said before, we trust these gentlemen, who have already expressed themselves highly pleased with what they have seen of our city, will give more than a passing notice to the advantages of Augusta. There is much unoccupied land in this vicinity, which, by proper culture, could be made to "blossom as the rose," and for which only reasonable—nay, less than reasonable—prices are demanded. We have a fine water power at this point, one of the best factories in the country, several splendid mills, excellent railroad facilities, a good city government, pleasant people, delightful climate, and other attractions, to which we seriously invite their earnest attention, and ask them to consider carefully in making any report or completing any arrangements relating to our State. But the way widens as we advance and we are reluctantly compelled to forego a further discussion of the subject until some future time. The names of the gentlemen are as follows:

A. J. Steinman, Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer; D. Street, Arthur Clarke, Maryland; L. G. Wyatt, Catawba (N. C.) Springs; D. Deekert, Hagertown, Md.; J. M. Cooper, Chambersburg, Valley Spirit; W. M. Bristin, Lebanon (Pa.) Advertiser; R. P. Waring, Charlotte (N. C.) Times.

We trust their journey through our State may be attended with great success and satisfaction, not only to them, but to our people.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

THE CONFEDERATE DEAD.—The Memorial Society, of Nashville, beg to inform the friends of the "Lost Cause," of Tennessee, and in all of the Southern States, that they have purchased, upon very liberal terms, four acres of the new Catholic Cemetery, adjoining Mt. Olivet, to re-inter the brave and honored Confederate soldiers, whose remains are now lying on the commons and fields of Davidson county. We hope all who are interested in this cause will send their contributions to the Treasurer, or to either of the following committee:

ROW AT QUITMAN COURT HOUSE.—While the Superior court was in session at Georgetown, Quitman county, Ga., on Tuesday last, a citizen approached his father, who was in the court house, and spoke in rather a loud tone to him, as he is deaf. The Judge hearing the noise and seeing the parties, fined them one dollar each. After the Court adjourned for dinner the young man approached the Judge and, after some words, assailed him. They were separated before much damage was done and the Judge ordered the Sheriff to summon a possee to arrest the assailant. The Sheriff could find none willing to aid him and the order of the Judge was unheeded. After the court assembled, the Judge fined him in the sum of $200 and to be imprisoned for twenty days. As the assailant had threatened to shoot the first man that laid hands on him, the arrest was not made.

The Judge has adjourned the court for the present.—Air Line Eagle.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Georgia Memorialists.

Congress Returns the Oregon Resolutions.

Fire in the Custom and Bonded Warehouse at Savannah.

Gov. Brown, Senator Hill and J. E. Bryant Disagree with Bullock.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Evart's assistants assigned J. Hubley Ashton to the Supreme Court, and S. L. Dickey to the Court of Claims.

The Senate is in caucus for the re-organization of Committees.

Full Cabinet to-day.

The Supreme Court was occupied in hearing the argument in a number of cases involving the constitutionality of the legal tender act, and its application to trusts and contracts made before its passage. The argument will probably occupy two days more.

Revenue receipts to-day $198,000.

A heavy gale is blowing.

The memorial presented to Congress from the members of the Georgia Legislature, protesting against the manner of organizing the provisional Government of Georgia and the subsequent action of the Legislature, wherein the following occurs:

"Your memorialists, also, respectfully submit to the descision of Congress whether the constitutional amendment has been adopted by the Legislature of Georgia, and whether further legislation is not necessary before the State can legally resume her status as a State in the Union, entitled to all the privileges of a loyal State. Your memorialists present these facts in behalf of themselves and over six hundred and fifty thousand loyal citizens of Georgia, and trust their appeal will not be in vain." The memorial is signed by Benj. Conley, President of the Senate, and fifteen other Senators, and J. E Bryant, J. H. Caldwell and forty-four members of the House, including expelled members.

SENATE.—Bills were introduced electing the President and Vice President by the people, removing Political Disabilities, abolishing the Franking Privilege, continue the Freedmens' Bureau in certain States

The President was requested to communicate information regarding relations with South American Republics and Brazil. A bill was introduced extending the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims over Arkansas and Louisiana. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A bill making the tariff on copper 3 to 5 cents passed. Several Department communications were presented.

The Oregon Legislative resolutions declare that Williams and Corbett have betrayed and misrepresented the people of that State. Among the acts specified are voting for impeachment and the reconstruction acts.

The House passed the following resolution by a vote of 127 to 35:

"Resolved, That the paper be returned to the presiding officers of both houses of the Oregon Legislature, the same being scandalous, impertinent and indecorous.

Butler introduced a bill repealing the tenure of office act, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee

A bill restoring Indian affairs to the War Department passed by 116 to 23,

Robinson spoke in favor of active measures for the relief of Fenians imprisoned in Great Britain for words spoken or deeds done in America. Adjourned.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—Of the thirty-three bodies recovered, the following are recognized: James John, Louisville, John Furnell, New York, Wm Johnson, Wallace Farris and Mr. Forbes, of Indiana, Mrs. Geo. W. Griffin, New Orleans, Mrs. Mary T. Thompson, Philadelphia

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8.—The sixth and last day's races over the Metaire course came off to-day. The first race was mile heats, purse $100. Jack Gamble 1—1; Wisenhunt 2—2; Tom Greene 3-3 Time—1:55¼—1:55¾. The second race was a walk over. Third race was for a purse of $1000, $200 to the second horse, three mile heats. Sundown 1—1; Carrie Atherton 3—2; Transit 2—3; Chalmette distanced. Time, 6:¾—6:04. The day was fine, track good and attendance large.

SAVANNAH, Dec. 8.—Fire in the Custom house and Bonded Warehouse this morning was discovered early or it might have been serious. Damage light.

AUGUSTA, December 8.—It is understood that Gov. Brown. Senator Hill, Col. J. E. Bryant, and other prominent Republicans are opposed to further Congressional interference in the affairs of Georgia, disagreeing with and opposing the policy of Gov. Bullock. They are not willing to admit that the reconstruction of Georgia is a failure.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—There was a heavy gale throughout England on Sunday and Monday. Many marine disasters telegraphed. The shipping in the harbors suffered. Many houses were destroyed.

DAN CASTELLO

WITH HIS HERD OF

WAR CAMELS

Are Coming! Are Coming!

The Greatest and Most

NOVEL FEATURE of the AGE!

Will Exhibit at Atlanta,

MONDAY, DECEMBER 14th,

Admission 75 Cents; Children under 10 years of age 50 Cents.

Mr. Dan Castello takes pleasure in announcing to the citizens of the South that, to give increased attraction to his already vast combination of talent and attractions, he has imported a HERD OF ABYSSINIAN WAR CAMELS, or, War Ships of the Desert, at a cost of over forty thousand dollars ($40,000), and which will be attached to the CHARIOT OF THEODORE. This Chariot has been pronounced the most beautiful piece of workmanship, and was built from designs and suggestions made by an officer of the British army, who served during the Abyssian and Indian wars, and bears upon its centre a colossal statute of the GOLDEN HORSE OF TARTARY, and elegantly carved, and surrounded by elegant Banners, Flags and Streamers, Camel, Lion and animal heads.

Each performances will commence with a grand and entirely new Arabian Nights Carnival, entitled THE REVOLT OF THE HAREM. In which will be introduced Camels, Arabs, Ladies, Gentlemen, Children to the number of One Hundred, with gorgeous costumes, rich paraphernalia and costly trappings and properties.

DAN CASTELLO'S

Great Show

AND

Abyssinian Caravan!

Fourth Annual Tour of the Great Equestrian Establishment which is well known throughout the country as the

LEADING CIRCUS IN AMERICA

And which during the present season, with its new and magnificent features never before presented in this country, will be enabled to offer entertainments of marked originality and exciting interest, far surpassing anything hitherto witnessed on this side of the Atlantic. The public appreciation of the performance given by Dan Castello's GREAT SHOW in the South, and also during its summer tours, has stimulated the management to renewed exertions, and it is confidently asserted, beyond the power of contradiction, that the performance of this Troupe, during the present season, will be found far superior to any ever given on this Continent. This company is, in every respect, THE BEST IN THE WORLD, there being no Equestrian establishment on the Eastern Hemisphere whose performances are so novel, recherche, refined and artistic, and which have evoked such admiration and astonishment in all the specialties of the arena.

The following eminent artists are Dan Castello's new Star Troupe. Two champion bare-back riders in the ring at the same time, CHAS. FISH and SIG. SEBASTIAN.

This is an unprecedented combination, affording the public an opportunity to witness two Star Bare Back Riders in the arena at the same time, and whose acts are entirely different and dissimilar, and who will each be stimulated to greater acts of daring to out-herald each other in acts of horsemanship.

M'lle De Berg,

The Phenomena Equestrienne, from France, whose wonderful and graceful equitations have won for her the title of the Champion Lady Rider, and who will appear in each performance in her daring acts of horsemanship.

YOUNG ROMEO The Boy Wonder, who is one of the most graceful and Juvenile riders of the age, and whose daring and intrepid acts of horsemanship, warrant the management in challenging the world that his equal in the profession is not of the present day, to the amount of $5,000.

JAMES COOKE, the greatest Rider and Vaulter in this country.

SIG. MONTEVERDI and SIG. FERANTIO, two wonderful Contortionists.

THE LEOTARD BROTHERS who, in the contest of the Acrobatic Gymnasts of all nations, in Paris, were awarded the Gold Medal as Champion Gymnasts of the world.

LA PETITE JOSEPHINE, the Cupid Rider.

MASTER GEORGE, the Daring and Dashing Hurdle Rider.

MR. DAN CASTELLO, the popular Jester of the age, who has met with unbounded success East, West, North and South, who will introduce his troupe of Educated Horses, Ponies and Mules, consisting of the far-famed Russian Horse

CZAR!

The Comic Trick Horse FIRE FLY and highly educated Mules TIMOTHY and ARTEMAS WARD, together with his troupe of Shetland

PONIES.

THE GRAND STREET PAGEANT will leave the Mammoth Pavillion, which covers over one acre of ground and which will comfortably accommodate 5,000 persons, at 11 A. M. each day.

Performances will commence, Afternoon at 2 o'clock; Evening at 7½ o'clock.

NOTICE.—In order to accommodate Heads of Families, Ladies and Children, and those who wish to avoid the crowd at the Ticket Wagon, can procure them at the National, United States and American Hotels, and Phillips & Crew's Book Store. dec6—d2t

PEASE AND HIS WIFE.—Their Restaurant. We have frequently thought our citizens did not appreciate this establishment as they should. With pride have we heard Epicures, who have been habitues of the leading establishments in the same line in New York, remark that Pease was equal to any in this country. By a happy arrangement the ladies of our city, after fatigueing walks in shopping, can find in this establishment a safe and pleasant retreat where they can refresh themselves with oysters or any other delicacies they may desire. We are glad to have an opportunity to commend a most worthy enterprize.

READ the advertisement of Echols, Langford & McCrath. See their long list of excellent stoves. They have been selected for their superior quality, and it is difficult to decide which is best. These gentlemen have one of the largest stock of Stoves in the South besides quantities of House Furnishing Goods. Call and see them if you wish to buy something good at living rates.

AFFRAY AT WEST END.—Oliver Bankston, son of John Bankston, of Gwinnett county, while returning from the city, was attacked by a negro, and had his skull badly fractured, from the effects of which it is supposed he will not recover. The negro has been sent to jail by the authorities at West End. There had been a quarrel between Bankston and the negro previous to the occurrence.

STONE AND MURRAY.—From the advertisement, it will be seen that this splendid Circus will be with us on the 15th. It is certainly one of the best shows in the South. No one who attends goes away dissatisfied, but feels that he has received the worth of his money and more besides. Nothing rude or indecent is permitted in the ring. The riding, vaulting, gymnastic exercises, etc., can't be surpassed.

IMPORTANT TO EVERYBODY.—John M. Gannon is now opening at his one price Dry Goods Store, corner Whitehall and Hunter streets, the largest and cheapest stock of goods that he has ever offered to the people of Atlanta and vicinity. He has a buyer in New York every day in the year, who is at all times prepared to take advantage of any decline that may take place in dry goods. Gannon's motto is one price, quick sales, and small profits. All goods warranted.—The one price system insures fair dealing to everybody. A splendid line of new goods will be opened Monday, Nov. 30th. For particulars, see advertisement elsewhere. nov29 d1m.

THE SELMA AND MERIDIAN RAILROAD. It affords us much satisfaction to be able to state that this road gives daily evidences of improvement, and that the travel has increased considerably since the completion of the Selma, Rome and Dalton Railroad. We paid a visit to the work shops yesterday and found that the most important and beneficial changes have been effected there under the supervision of Mr. Davis, of the motive power department, and Mr. Ashley, of the car department. In May last, when Captain C. B. Wallace, the present Superintendent, took charge of the road, he seeing the necessity which existed for a change, went to work at once, employed both competent and efficient railroad men for every department, and a visit to the shops now will show how successful have been his exertions. Everything is in its own place and in good working order, and while there are about forty-five hands at work, there is not an idler to be seen on the premises. In fact, he has saved the Company several thousand dollars by his management of affairs and also by the exchange of some heavy engines for lighter ones which are much better adapted to the road. We have been informed that these improvements have not been confined to the departments named, but that they are visible from one end of the road to the other. We congratulate the Company in its good fortune in having secured the services of so able and energetic a gentleman as Captain Wallace is, and in their good taste in selecting the son of one of the ablest railroad men in America—Major Campbell Wallace.

The above complimentary notice of Capt. C. B. Wallace and his officers, from the Selma Times, meets our hearty approval. The above mentioned officers are well known here, having been formerly connected with the Western and Atlantic Railroad during the administration of Maj. Campbell Wallace, and we learn that many of his subordinates are from the same source, which is in itself sufficient guarantee of their efficiency. While we congratulate the Selma and Meridian Railroad on its improved management, and Capt. Wallace and his confreres on their success, we cannot refrain from expressing our regret that so much Railroad talent should have been lost to this State.

THE EFFECTS OF THE ELECTION OF GEN. GRANT IN THE SOUTH.—We have observed our Southern exchanges carefully since the election, and have been unable to discover, with one or two exceptions, the exhibition of any other feeling than that of sincere acquiescence in the success of Gen. Grant. For the most part the Southern leading papers have eschewed the discussion of politics in any spirit of bitterness, and, like a prominent Georgia paper, suggest to the Southern people the propriety of settling down calmly and taking a business view of the situation. They do not advise a Southern State to abate one jot of her claims to constitutional equality, or withdraw a single protest she may have made against the usurpations of a Radical Congress; but they advise "Let not the intellect and energy of the South be wholly devoted to these themes." These are wise and timely suggestions, and we repeat, instead of rancorous partisan articles, we are glad to see that the pens of the most influential Southern writers are already devoted to the consideration of topics calculated to attract the attention of capitalists to the vast resources of the country, and by building new railroads, new telegraph lines, establishing new lines of steamers, erecting free school houses, organizing agricultural societies and offering premiums for the best specimens of agricultural products, not only restore the South to her pristine prosperity, but open a pathway for her to reach a still higher degree of wealth and greatness. It is only necessary for our Southern friends to continue in this course, which is one signally demanded by the progress of the age and of the American nation particularly, to insure for them a complete restoration to their former rights and influence. It is folly for them to contend any longer against the reconstruction laws, bad and tyrannical as they are, so long as the political power of the country rests in the hands it now does. We believe that in the pursuit of peaceful avocations, in efforts for the development of the hidden wealth of the country and the establishment of law and order in districts where confusion and anarchy may have prevailed and may still prevail, the South will find a warm, true and steadfast friend in the President elect.—N. Y. Herald, 23d.

☞ When the PLANTATION BITTERS were first made known to the American people some seven years ago, it was supposed that they were an entirely new thing, and had never before been used. So far as their general use in the United States is concerned, this may be true. It is also true that the same Bitters were made and sold in the Island of St. Thomas, over forty years ago, as any old planter, merchant or sea captain doing business with the West Indies will tell you. It is distinctly within my recollection that on the return of my father (who was a sea captain, and doing an extensive trade in the tropics,) he would invariably have these Bitters among the ship's stores, and our family sideboard was never without them. For any sickness, it matters not how severe or trifling, the decanter of these Bitters, by a different name, was always resorted to as a sovereign remedy.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. dec9-d&w1w

☞ A New York Herald correspondent had a conversation recently with Congressman Boutwell, who, in answer to inquiries stated that he should advocate the exaction of more stringent measures of reconstruction in Virginia, Mississippi and Texas than had been required from the other States. He believed that specie payments can be hastened only by advancing prosperity and not by legislation. As to the suffrage question, he was of the opinion that Congress had the power to declare who may vote for Presidential electors, Senators and Congressmen, if not the power to regulate the entire question of suffrage in the States.

EXCITING, PROMPT AND SUCCESSFUL REVOLUTION
IN THE
Boot and Shoe Business!
—BY—
M. O. MARKHAM,
Successor to HENRY BANKS, at the well known stand
EMPIRE BLOCK, WHITEHALL STREET,
ATLANTA, GEORGIA.
HAVING purchased the entire stock of Mr. BANKS (except such goods as did not come up to the highest standard for excellence) consisting of BOOTS, SHOES, LEATHER, SHOE FINDINGS, &c., &c., to which there is being added an immense supply of NEW MATERIAL, in quality the best and quantity without limit, fresh from the most celebrated manufactories in the land I, am fully prepared to offer superior inducements to buyers everywhere, as well as to the trade.
I call urgently upon everybody to come and examine my splendid stock. If it is possible to please, I can do it.

Fall and Winter Dry Goods.
JOHN M. GANNON.
(Corner WHITEHALL and HUNTER Streets,)
IS just in receipt of the following splendid line of Goods, which he has carefully selected, and will dispose of at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction:
DRESS GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,
A great variety of Cloaks and Shawls; a splendid line of Blankets and Flannels; a full stock of Hosiery, Handkerchiefs, Embroideries, Breakfast Shawls, Nubias, Scarfs, Ladies' Under Vests, Gloves, Hoops and Balmoral Skirts, Irish Linens, Birds' Eye Diapers, Table Linen, Scotch Diaper, Crash, Broad Cloths, Cassimeres, English Tweeds, Satinets, Kentucky and North Carolina Jeans, Prints, Sheetings, Shirtings, Demins, Stripes, Tickings, Osnaburgs, Linseys, Drills, Checks and everything kept in a first class Dry Goods store.
ONE PRICE ONLY.
It affords me pleasure to be able to state that this system has been a complete success and gives general satisfaction to my customers. For the benefit of those who have not been in the habit of doing business with me, I state that there is only one price for every article sold in my store, so that there is no danger of any person being overcharged for goods under any circumstances—in other words—a child can purchase goods in my store as cheap as the closest judge. I wish it distinctly understood that if any goods purchased in my establishment fail to come up to repretentation, they can be returned and the money will be refunded.
All consumers of dry goods are invited to call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Bulwer's New Play.

The subjoined extract may serve as a specimen of the text of Lord Lytton's new play, "The Rightful Heir," now a leading feature in London theatricals. Vyvian speaks thus of "The Mother Sea" and her tropical islands:

She is not cruel if her breast swell high
Against the winds that thwart her loving aim
To link, by every sail whose course she speeds,
Man's common brotherhood from pole to pole;
Grant she hath danger—danger schools the brave.
And bravery leaves all cruel things to cowards,
Grant that she hardens us to fear—the hearts
Most proof to fear are easiest moved to love,
As on the oak whose roots defy the storm,
All the leaves tremble when the South wind stirs.
Yet if the sea dismay thee, on the shores
Kissed by her waves, and far, as fairy isles
In poet dreams from this gray, care-worn world,
Blooms many a bower for the Sea Rover's bride.
I know a land where feathering palm-trees shade
To delicate twilight, suns benign as those
Whose dawning gilded Eden—Nature there,
Like a gay spendthrift in the flush of youth,
Flings her whole treasure on the lap of time.
There, steeped in roseate hues, the lake-like sea
Heaves to an air whose breathing is ambrosia;
And, all the while, bright-winged and warbling birds,
Like happy souls released, melodious float
Thro' blissful light, and teach the ravished earth
How joy finds voice in Heaven.

Wealth of New York Editors.—A New York correspondent of the Mobile Register gives the following inside view of the pecuniary condition of the leading members of the editorial fraternity in that city:

Both Raymond and Greeley can afford to pay for the pleasure it has given them to traduce Judge Barnard. Except the Herald, there is not a better newspaper property in New York than the Times. Mr. Raymond is a principal stockholder, and has enough money to make the payment of $20,000 or $30,000 damages to Judge Barnard an easy matter. Mr. Greeley is also pretty comfortable, pecuniarly. Besides his large salary for (nominally) editing the Tribune, the annual profits his shares as a stockholder bring him, and the five or six thousand a year he makes by writing for other papers and for magazines, and by lecturing, he has a snug income from the sale of his "American Conflict," which is said to have already netted him about $40,000, and is still selling. If Judge Barnard wishes to prosecute, Horace can afford to pay handsomely.

It is not a bad thing to edit a daily paper in New York. All our editors in this line are rich. Bennett's income is over $100,000 a year. Greeley makes enough money to support a dozen families in style, but is democratic enough to take his meals in a fifteen cent restaurant, instead of going to Delmonico's. Raymond lives like a prince, in Ninth street, and gives some capital dinners, at which our political and social nabobs stretch their legs under his mahogony. Marble has been at the business only a few years, but has already built up quite a fortune and lives as well as the best of them. The Brookes are worth a couple of hundred thousands each, and the Express is as profitable as ever. Bryant made enough out of the Post to buy a fine farm and splendid mansion on Long Island, where he spends most of his time, and to which he will soon retire permanently. Dana and Thurlow Weed are very wealthy, but as their money was made outside, they come properly under the head of men made rich by editing. The Beaches made a big fortune out of the Sun and sold out for another. Ben Wood is the only editor of a daily I know who has not made money in the sanctum. He has made enough outside of it, however, and is reported to be worth a quarter of a million. The Journal of Commerce put some hundreds of thousands in the pockets of the late Mr. Halleck, and is doing the same for his successors. Who wouldn't be the editor of a flourishing New York daily?

Some of the weeklies, too, make piles of money. The Ledger ranks first, of course, with its circulation of over 300,000. Next in circulation comes the Weekly, modeled, partly, on the Ledger, but not so substantial in matter. Its circulation is said to be over 250,000. The Weekly has spent over $40,000 in advertising one story. The Independent and the Sunday Mercury have an income of the Independent from this source is said to be over $150,000 a year. The Mercury's must be nearly as great. Harper's Weekly, Harper's Bazaar, Frank Leslie's and three or four other illustrated weeklies, are all mines of profit. The idea that an editor is only a poor devil of a fellow is wrong. He makes public opinion, he makes money, and he often makes men, and, therefore, he is some consequence.

Grant Speaks.—It is very remarkable—it is very significant—that the first outgiving by the President elect, concerning the political ideas that will govern his administration, should be given in a letter written by him to a prominent and well-known Democrat.

General Slocum, to whom this first political revelation of the President elect is made, in fine, the distinguished Democrat who was the candidate of that party for Secretary of State in New York, in the election of 1865. He was defeated by his Radical opponent at that time; but in the recent election, having been nominated by the Democracy of the Third District for member of Congress, he was elected.

General Grant has written a letter congratulating him on his election! and intimating that there will not probably be anything in the next administration which a moderate Democrat may not support.

Apparently this intimation was entirely voluntary on the part of General Grant. It is not even supposable that General Slocum elicited this most positive and direct of all Grant's political self-revelations by any process of pumping. The pumping process, applied to Grant has not been rewarded with a measure of success that would warrant any such supposition.

The meaning of Grant's "intimation" is plainly deducible from his congratulation of Gen. Slocum on his election. Gen. Slocum, in the mind of Gen. Gaant, was the typical "moderate Democrat" to whom he intended that phrase should apply.

Gen. Slocum's Democracy is pretty generally known to the public. He is a Democrat in the full meaning of the term. As McClellan said in comparing Burnside to Pope, he is no Mister Logan, or Mister Butler, or Mister Cochrane, or Mr. Wallbridge, or Mister of any semblance that keeps its political "headquarters in the saddle." He is a Democrat of the Democratic party, and not of the bush-whacking, guerrilla, or chameleon description, that are Democrats, Radicals, Jacobins, Federalists, scalawags, or anything else, according to the color of the fence they happen to be walking on.

It will be amusing if not instructive, to hear what the Colfax party will have to say about Grant's letter to Slocum.—Chicago Times.

The Prim Provisional Government of Spain Heading off the Republicans.—A dispatch which we publish to-day from Madrid states that the provisional government of Spain has declared that the popular sense of the country is antagonistic to a republic, and that the Cortes soon to meet will surely propose a monarchy. This is a little ambiguous. How has the government declared such a thing? Officially or semi-officially through the press? It seems strange that such a declaration should be made in advance of the Cortes and in the face of demonstrations in many of the most important cities in favor of a republic. It looks as if General Prim and his party are resolved to head off the republicans and force a monarchy upon the people at all hazards. We should like to know what relations Prim holds with the Emperor Napoleon, for this reported action of the provisional Spanish government has all the appearance of being inspired by the sphinx of the Tuileries.—N. Y. Herald, 29th.

A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY!

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid!

The Country is Waking up to its Merits!

What About It!

It will purify the most offensive atmosphere.
It will cleanse and cure Erysipelas, all sorts of sores, ulcers, boils, cuts, wounds, etc.
It will prevent gangrene.
It will cure burns, scalds, and bruises.
It is a perfect pain-killer.
It will destroy and neutralize all animal and vegetable poisons.
It will, therefore, cure stings or bites of insects.
It will cleanse and purify the breath, and hence is an excellent tooth-wash and healthful cosmetic.
It will cure diarrhœa, even the worst chronic case.
It will instantly cure horses of the colic or persons of heartburn.
It will, owing to the bleaching properties of Chlorine, remove all ink spots, mildew, vegetable stains, &c.
It will cure Catarrh.
It will remove rancidity out of butter and lard.
It will, properly used, be more efficacious than any other agent in preventing the spread of contagious diseases, and has frequently done it.
It will, used in bathing, keep the skin healthy, soft and white.

We pledge whatever reputation we may have as honest, truthful gentlemen for the performance of all here claimed for the article and more too.

It is used everywhere by the medical profession as fast as it is introduced, and we respectfully refer to all prominent men of the profession, from very many of whom we have the highest testimonials of praise for the Fluid.

As a convenient article for constant family use it has no superior.

It has a beautiful color, and when the color is gone the virtues of the Fluid are lost. Hence be careful not to get the cork in the bottle of any animal or vegetable substance, and always keep the bottle stopped. After the Fluid has acted the residium is perfectly inert and harmless.

It is taken internally as well as applied externally.

It is cheap, selling only at 50 cents per bottle of half pint.

Everybody Uses It and Praises It! True Merit is the Foundation of its Success!!

Read Some of the Testimony!

Letter from Hon. Alex. A. Stephens, of Ga.]

CRAWFORDSVILLE, GA., 29th Sept. 1868.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is an article of little cost, but great value. Its domestic as well as medicinal uses are numerous, while its specialties are most wonderful. I have not been without it for ten years, and no head of a family who can afford to have it should be without it.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.

Letter from Hon. A. J. Walker, Montgomery, Ala., Ex-Chief Justice Supreme Court of Ala.]

I have for many years used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid, and have found it exceedingly valuable—I recommend it to the public confidence as highly useful for the various purposes to which it is applied.

A. J. WALKER.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 1868.

Letter from Rev. Jefferson Hamilton, D. D., Mobile, Ala., Minister M. E. Church South.]

My family have used Darby's Prophylactic Fluid for several years for various purposes, and esteem it very highly. Indeed, I know of no article within the whole range of Chemical preparations so generally and highly recommended by acquaintances as this.

J. HAMILTON.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 22, 1868.

Letter from Prof. R. T. Brumby, Marietta, Ga.]

I was fifteen years Professor of Chemistry, &c., in the Univ. of Alabama, and eight years in the Univ. of S. C., and I am convinced that Prof. Darby's Prophylactic Fluid possesses all the merit he claims for it. It is very generally known and appreciated in all the Southern States, and is sold by nearly all Southern druggists.

R. T. BRUMBY.

MARIETTA, Ga., Oct. 1868.

From Rev. John Matthews, Pastor M. E. South, at Montgomery, Ala.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., Oct. 20, 1868.

Darbys' Prophylactic Fluid is the only medicine kept in my family. We use it for almost everything—burns, bruises, stings, earache, sour stomach, &c., &c. My children, when hurt or bruised, call always at once for Darby's Fluid. We cannot get along well without it.

JOHN MATHEWS.

From W. O Tuggle, Esq., Attorney at Law, La Grange, Ga.]

LAGRANGE, GA., Oct., 21, 1868.

I take pleasure in stating that I have found "Darby's Prophylactic Fluid to be an excellent remedy for cutaneous eruptions, chapped skin and bruises. It is a priceless jewel as a disinfectant, and my wife states, for the benefit of young mothers, that "Darby's Fluid" is a valuable adjunct to the nursery.

W. O. TUGGLE.

From J. H. Heustis, M. D., Mobile, Ala., Prof. Mobile Medical College.]

MOBILE, ALA., Oct. 19, 1868.

I have used your Chlorinated Fluid in Hospital and private practice for ten years, and know of nothing better for sloughing, contused and lacerated wounds, foul and indolent ulcers, and as a disinfectant.

J. F. HEUSTIS, M. D.

These are but a few of the most recent testimonials received in behalf of the preparation.

It is as useful in winter as in summer, for its disinfecting quality is the least of its really valuable uses.

It is neatly put up in half pint bottles, and sells at 50 cents per bottle.

All Druggists keep it.

WEEKLY, PER ANNUM		$3 00

THE CONSTITUTION is intensely DEMOCRATIC;

and neither pains, enterprise, nor money will be spared, in the efforts of the Proprietors, to make it a leading organ, and one of the first papers in the South.

THE CONSTITUTION has scarcely laid aside its baptismal robes, and yet its circulation is equal to, if not greater, than any political paper in Georgia. This unparalleled success is mainly attributable to the industry and enterprise which have characterized its management.

As its name imports, it is battling for the Constitution and the liberties of the people; and the patronage it has received, assures the Proprietors that their labors are appreciated, and their policy endorsed.

As an advertising medium, THE CONSTITUTION is, perhaps, superior to any paper published in the State, its circulation being confined to no particular locality, but extending from one end of the State to the other, and from the Savannah to the Chattahoochee.

The Proprietors intend no relaxation of their energy, but will add new features of interest and more vigorous enterprise as patronage increases; and they hope in future, as in the past, to merit the good will and plaudits of their numerous readers.

The excellent remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation. Their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern Climate, having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are pre-disposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Anti-Billous Pills and Liver Medicine strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people, Earache Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and bodily pains of every kind, flee before PROPHITT'S PAIN KILL IT like chaff before the wind.

NEWSPAPER FOR SALE!

THE ALBANY

TRI-WEEKLY NEWS

IS OFFERED FOR SALE!

FINDING IT IMPOSSIBLE TO RUN BOTH THE CONSTITUTION and the NEWS, without fatal neglect to one or the other, I propose to sell the latter.

The NEWS is in a flourishing condition, having a liberal Circulation, and as much Advertising Patronage as it can accommodate. It has yielded handsome profits since I purchased it in October last; and in practical hands, with vigor in its editorial management, can be made the best paying paper in Georgia. There is a well appointed

Job Office Attached,

And the Job Work of the City will run the establishment if rightly managed.

There are two PRESSES, one of Hoe's Iron Cylinder, and one Washington Hand Press in good order, and material enough to run a daily and Weekly. I will sell on liberal terms if application is made within Thirty Days.

SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN,

Daily and Weekly,

By J. R. SNEED.

THE undersigned is pleased to announce to his friends and the public that he has again come in possession of this time-honored journal, and expects to devote his entire time to making it, as a newspaper, second to none in the South. The liberal patronage of the past and better years, while the REPUBLICAN was under his charge, encourages him to hope that by prompt and continued support the public will enable him to carry this purpose into effect.

To the MERCHANTS of the South, and especially of his own State, he looks with confidence for a general support, promising them, in return, the best news, commercial and political journal that his experience and capabilities can produce.

The Weekly Republican,

Designed more especially for the planting community, and others who have not the privilege of a daily mail, will be found to contain all the news of the week condensed into a small compass, and by the close of the year we expect to issue it on a large and imperial sheet of eight pages, to contain more reading matter than any paper in the South.

TERMS:

Daily, One Year	$10 00
" Six Months	5 00
" For a less time (per month)	1 00
Weekly per Year	2 00

N. B. Payment in advance for either edition will be required, without exception.

All letters should be addressed as below.
